

The Haunted Elementary School

Once upon a time there was a haunted house. Some people were looking for a house and they thought it was the perfect house. Their names were Suzy, Zack, and their mother Emily. Their dad died a long time ago. On a Halloween night suddenly Zack's closet door opened by itself. When the door flung open came a mummy. It looked like a person wrapped in tissue, and the mummy was really dirty. When Zack saw the mummy he screamed loudly. Suddenly all the screaming stopped. Suzy heard the scream and wanted to know why Zack screamed so she called his name, there was no answer. So she decided to check out what happened to her brother. She crept into her brother's room to see what happened. The second she walked in she saw the mummy and immediately screamed. Then just like Zack's screaming it suddenly stopped. Their mother heard both of their screams and decided to check it out. She got up and walked into her son's room only to see both her son and daughter laying dead on the floor. She started screaming and wanted to know what happened. Then suddenly she saw the mummy. The mummy looked at her with his big red eyes and tried to grab her. She ran down the stairs and she tripped. The mummy ran after her even faster to try and get her like he got her children. Suddenly she started to scream and like her kids the screaming stopped. Now every time someone goes into the house on Halloween the neighbors here the same type of sounds loud screaming and then nothing. Nobody has ever made it out alive on Halloween day. Now they made a school where the house used to be. The school is called Churchill Elementary. Now every Halloween the mummy creeps around the hallway looking for its next victim. And this Halloween will be no different. So on Halloween be careful because some student won't be and you will here the sudden scream and then nothing.
