

The Case of the Missing Golden Crown of Izabac: The Pack Mysteries

On a dark and stormy night there was a mystery that had been unsolved for days. At Castle Doormoore, the famous history museum, Charlie and his friends, Will and Matt, will try to figure out what happened to the historical Golden Crown Worth more than 3 billion dollars. Will Charlie and his friends find out?

Before Charlie and his friends get to Castle Doormoore, they come to an old, retro-looking restaurant. Before the pack entered they noticed a hole the size of a bullet in the front window. Charlie goes in first because Will and Matt are too scared to go in. Charlie touched the door knob and he turned it slightly and pushed the door forward slowly. He saw a man that looked like the owner, but Charlie wasn't sure. The man said, "Can't you see that sign that says closed!!!" As the man spoke, he changed the sign from open to closed. The sign said CLOSED BE BACK IN 2 HOURS!!

Charlie told his friends what happened. Will and Matt said, "That's weird that an owner doesn't want a customer." The pack got back in their car and drove till they found another restaurant. This one was, fortunately, a Happy Burgers where the burgers are happy to be eaten. They walked in and all got a happy burger and smiley fries. For dessert they had a silly sundae and a slice of pumpkin pie.

Back on the road again, finally they get to Castle Doormoore. They are amazed at the sight of the castle. Around the castle it was very foggy. It was in the evening and the castle looked very frightening. Charlie said, "I don't think I would like to stay the night at this museum." Before they went in they noticed a lot of police cars around the building. Even the sheriff from Day Cott County was there. Mr. Trip, the sheriff, always loved how the pack solved cold, dead end mysteries. When the pack got inside they found way more police than there were cars. In the castle it was like a swarm of bees in a beehive but with police. There were paramedics there too because it looked like a guard got kicked more than once by a martial arts expert.

"Who are the suspects?" asks Charlie. Mr. Trip said, "There are 3 suspects: Fred Cue, Sue Flemming and Ty Tent. Fred won't say what he was doing that night. Sue won't stop crying, so she's not saying anything yet. Ty doesn't want to cooperate at all and he punched Officer Keli and knocked him out."

The Pack went to ask Fred some questions. First Charlie asks, "When did you last see the Golden Crown of Izabac?" "I say nothing!!" answers Fred. "Tell me or there will be consequences." says Charlie. Fred asks, "Like what?" "Things unknown to the human mind." Charlie answers. "Oh. Well maybe." says Fred. There was a long pause. "Ok. Last time I saw it it was the weekend and I was taking a vacation to Castle Doormoore because it is a famous museum. I paid for all my tickets and I went to different exhibits and finally I came to the crown and it looked beautiful. I loved so much I wanted to take it home.

I got my hand real close and the alarm went off. So, maybe that's why I'm a suspect."

Then The Pack went to try to ask Ty some questions. "Why did you punch Officer Kelly?" asks Matt. "I did it because he was threatening me and he had a gun. So, I got worried. Then I punched him," answers Ty. "Alright then," says Matt.

This time The Pack went to ask Sue some questions since she stopped crying. "Why were you crying?" asked Will. "I was crying because I don't understand why someone would try to kill a guard." "Alright that's all," says Will.

The Pack came together and discussed the answers and questions they asked with the sheriff. Charlie says, "I know who stole the Golden Crown of Izabac. I know that it is not Fred because the alarm went off and it was still there after he left. I also know that the thief is not Ty because he got scared and didn't know what to do about the police being there. I know that Sue is the thief because she said she was crying because of someone trying to kill the guard. How did she know unless she did it?"

They leave Castle Doormoore. Their job is done. They decide to go back to the restaurant where a bullet was shot through the window. They wanted to see if it was opened again. When they got there, the restaurant was open and they found that the bullet hole in the window was gone. They opened the door and went inside. Stay tuned for the next Pack Mystery.
